Israel, Egypt Battle At Suez

CON THIEN, S. VIETNAM: A weary leatherneck watches as a tank, carrying bodies of fallen Marines, moves out of the Con Thien area Sunday following bitter hand-to-hand combat with North Vietnamese troops. North Vietnamese artillery, mortars and machine guns Wednesday drove back Marines sent to an area north of Con Thien to retrieve bodies of fallen comrades.

Marines Clash Twice With N. Viet Regulars

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines fought twice Saturday with North Vietnamese regulars near the embattled Marine outpost at Con Thien below the demilitarized zone, and a forward outpost was hit by a barrage of heavy artillery fire from North Vietnamese guns across the zone.

Headquarters said at day's end 84 North Vietnamese were counted dead and Marine losses were four killed and 85 wounded.

The three new actions occurred after the U.S. Command Saturday claimed impressive victories over Communist troops in South Vietnam's hard-pressed 1st Corps area in which a week of heavy action left 134 Marines dead, 631 wounded and five missing.

Headquarters spokesmen said a series of ground clashes and artillery, rocket and mortar duels that broke out below the de-

DEMONSTRATORS PROTEST HANDLING BY LA POLICE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Marchers who demonstrated against war at President Johnson's recent visit—and were broken up by police—returned 1,500 strong Saturday to picket the police building.

"Stop brutality in Vietnam and Los Angeles," one of their signs said. "Control your local police," said another.

After two hours, monitors urged the marchers to go home and they quietly dispersed.

Police Capt. Larry Walton said officers carefully prepared for the demonstration.

"We have known about this for at least a week," Walton said. "Some of our intelligence people and informants gave us some of their literature."

A demonstrator carrying a U.S. flag at one point walked up to a police officer in the building in downtown Los Angeles, snapped his right arm upward and shouted "Heil!" The policeman didn't respond.

During the June 23 demonstration, in which more than 10,000 marchers refused orders to keep moving, several dozen persons were injured in a clash with police. None of the injuries was serious.

Two Major Bills Hold Key To Length Of 1967 Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two major pieces of legislation — an increase in Social Security benefits and a boost in income taxes — apparently hold the key to how long the 1967 session of Congress runs.

Members of the 90th Congress will return to work Monday after a 10-day recess with not only these two big items but a host of other measures remaining to be acted on before adjournment.

The 1967 session has not been too productive so far, and congressional leaders concede that many bills, including several of President Johnson's urgent recommendations, will fall by the wayside.

But there is every expectation that the Social Security and tax bills will be put through, even though this means sine die adjournment cannot come before October, as key legislators now expect.

In addition, Congress must pass 20 more regular money bills to run the government in the current financial year which began a week ago. Only two of these have been sent to Johnson so far.

And it probably will act on legislation to extend several programs now in operation, even though some are highly controversial.

In this category are foreign aid, the antipoverty campaign, the elementary and secondary school act, and highway beautification.

An important reason why the Social Security and tax bills will delay adjournment is that each must be handled by the same committee—Ways and Means in the House and Finance in the Senate.

The Ways and Means Committee has been struggling with the mammoth Social Security measure for months and is understood to be ready to complete work on it in about two weeks.

Trade Charges At UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt and Israel accused each other Saturday night of trying to torpedo the June 10 cease-fire as part of a border policy aimed at a new Middle East war.

A representative of Egypt charged that the latest Israeli-Egyptian clashes in the Suez area were part of a deliberate war plan being pressed with the "support and encouragement of certain powers." The suggestion was that they were the United States and Britain.

Israel asserted that it was Egypt that, for reasons of its own, was attempting to undermine the cease-fire. It said the Saturday clashes were clearly planned by the Egyptian authorities in line with their "bellicose" statements.

The charges were made in the U.N. Security Council which decided, after hearing representatives of the two governments, to postpone further debate until Sunday afternoon so that delegates would have more time to study the statements and consult on possible action.

The council adjourned until 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Ambassador Mohamed Awad El Koni told the U.N. Security Council that Israel "is determined to escalate the military actions in the Middle East" and that it could not do so "unless there is an unprecedented collusion between Israel and certain powers which are... trying to remain in disguise."

Nine-Hour Fight Breaks Cease-Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egyptian and Israeli jets, tanks and artillery battled Saturday at the Suez Canal for nearly nine hours in the biggest fight since the June 10 ceasefire that ended the Middle East war.

The fighting stopped by night-fall, but Israel and Egypt carried their battle before the United Nations in New York. At an emergency Security Council meeting, each blamed the other for breaking the cease-fire.

Egypt said its jet fighters engaged the Israelis in dog-fights and acknowledged that one of its planes did not return. Israel claimed one Egyptian MIG21 shot down south of Port Said.

Egypt said six Israeli planes bombed the twin cities of Port Said and Port Fuad at the Mediterranean entrance to the canal, killing one civilian and wounding seven others.

Israel said its aircraft crossed the Suez Canal to knock out Egyptian artillery on the west bank and that the Egyptians started the fight by shelling Israeli troops on the east bank. Israeli soldiers occupied the east bank territory during the six-day Middle East war.

Israel put its casualties at five killed and 31 wounded after nearly nine hours of intermittent fighting. It said tanks were thrown into action by both Egypt and Israel and exchanged fire in the El Qantara region.

Israel claimed its forces knocked out two Egyptian tanks and said one Israeli tank was damaged. The Israelis said the Egyptians turned their heavy coastal batteries "with good results," according to an army spokesman.

Radio Cairo said Egyptian forces destroyed three Israeli tanks and 11 armored cars in breaking up an armored drive from the south aimed at important canal installations at Port

Nigerian Drive Aims At Arrest Of Biafra Head

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian federal troops were reported driving toward the regional capital of Enugu Saturday with the professed aim of capturing secessionist leader Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu.

Informed sources reported the university town of Nsukka, 40 miles from Enugu, was surrounded and other reports said Nigerian troops were within 20 miles of the capital of the self-proclaimed republic of Biafra.

But the federal military government has issued no official statement on the fighting other than an announcement that Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon had sent troops into the rebel Eastern region after they were fired on Thursday morning.

While some sources told of federal advances, Biafra radio, between programs of martial music and commercials for cleaning fluid and blood tonic, proclaimed successful counterattacks.

A broadcast monitored in Cotonou, Dahomey, claimed 214 federal troops had been killed, with only four rebels dead and 18 wounded. Biafra radio also claimed Biafran troops had advanced at least five miles into federal territory.

A federal military spokesman said Saturday that the Gowon government's primary aim was to arrest Ojukwu.

"If we can get him today, that's it," he said, implying that Biafran resistance would then collapse.

Ojukwu was military governor of the oil-rich Eastern province and led the movement in which it declared itself the independent republic of Biafra May 30. Fourteen million of Nigeria's 56 million people live in the region, claim the east was treated unfairly by the federal government.

Federal and Biafran troops battled on in rainy weather over hilly terrain in the third day of a fight in which each claims to have inflicted heavy casualties on the other. Rival radio stations broadcast sometimes conflicting accounts of the struggle.

Radio Kaduna, in the north, said Nigerian forces were within 20 miles of Enugu, the Biafran capital, which is 300 miles east of Lagos.

Red Chinese Attack Hong Kong Outpost

HONG KONG (AP) — Six hundred heavily armed Gurkha troops Sunday patrolled the Hong Kong half of Shu Tau Kok village, where 1,000 Communist Chinese crossed the border and attacked a Hong Kong police station Saturday with rifles and machine guns.

Five police were killed and 13 wounded before the Gurkhas rescued 86 police who had barricaded themselves in the police post and 80 others in a government building 50 yards behind it.

Government officials in this British colony and in London said they believed the attack was "an isolated incident" and did not presage a Communist Chinese military offensive against Hong Kong. The colony is recovering from Communist rioting and anti-British demonstrations in May and Communist-instigated labor strife in June.

Supt. D. G. McNeill, commander of the police station, said no army or militia uniforms were worn by the Chinese who swarmed across the border, rushed the post 100 yards inside Hong Kong territory, and opened fire.

He would not speculate on whether troops or militia might have been operating in civilian clothes. Many observers in Hong Kong believed that so many troops or militia were involved. Reports out of Red China say no one except soldiers and militia is allowed weapons.

Britain's envoy in Peking was instructed to ask the Red Chinese Foreign Ministry to clarify circumstances of the attack. Officials in London said this was not a protest but an attempt to clear up a confused situation.

Hong Kong officials viewed the incident as another attempt to frighten Hong Kong's four million Chinese, most of whom have remained loyal to the colonial government despite Communist rule.

Vivien Leigh Dies

LONDON (AP) — Actress Vivien Leigh, who won an Oscar in 1939 and rose to international stardom by playing Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind," died Saturday.

She won another Oscar 12 years later for her portrayal of Cleopatra in "A Star Is Born."

She was found dead in bed in her London apartment after a long illness of tuberculosis, an illness which had dominated her life since 1945. She suffered frequent collapses and in 1960 lost a baby she was expecting shortly before her divorce from Sir Laurence Olivier.

Miss Leigh was stricken ill a month ago as she was to start rehearsals for the London stage production of "A Delicate Balance."

She was one of Britain's most accomplished and versatile modern actresses.

She and her second husband, Sir Laurence, won international acclaim in the twin productions, Shakespeare's "Antony and Cleopatra" and George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra."

Congo Troops Revenge Rout By Mercenaries

KAMEMBE, Rwanda (AP) — Congolese government troops, routed by rebels aided by white mercenaries, returned to the border city of Bukavu Friday and killed more than 60 persons, including five Europeans, in a wild rampage of revenge, diplomatic and Red Cross officials reported Saturday.

They said disciplined Congolese paratroopers brought calm to the eastern Congolese resort city after their arrival by air from Kinshasa, the Congolese capital.

The reports of the refugees from Bukavu to this neighboring nation came as the Congolese radio announced that forces loyal to President Joseph D. Mobutu had defeated mercenaries and rebels in Bukavu, Kisangani — formerly Stanleyville — and Kindu. The radio said the fighting was over.

It said the fighting that started last Wednesday had ended with government forces in control. Mobutu claimed the rebels launched the hostilities as part of an attempted coup plotted in Spain by former Premier Maurice Tshombe, who is now in custody in Algeria.

His chartered plane was hijacked while flying over Spain's Balearic Islands and diverted to Algiers. The Congo seeks his extradition to execute him as a traitor and subversive.

Mobutu canceled a nationwide radio address on the end to the fighting Saturday "pending more information on the role played by some Congolese in the rebellion," a Congolese radio broadcast said.

But the Congolese Interior Ministry issued an appeal for calm and respect for others' lives and properties, the broadcast said.

The refugees reaching Kameembe, two miles across the border from Bukavu, said the Bukavu area is now in the hands of loyal forces.

The Congo-Rwanda border, however, remained closed to all Europeans.

About 1,500 Europeans live in Bukavu. U.S. officials in Rwanda said they knew of no deaths or injuries to any Americans there. About 50 American missionaries in the Bukavu area fled to Rwanda at the start of the hostilities.

The diplomatic and Red Cross officials at the border said the murder rampage of the Congolese troops lasted most of Friday.

They were said to be seeking revenge for the easy capture of Bukavu by Katanga mutineers.

Katanga is the province Tshombe led into secession after the 1965 coup.

Ho Chi Minh Forcing U.S. Into Test Of Will

An AP News Analysis By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, (AP) — North Vietnam's President Ho Chi Minh has forced the United States into a showdown test of will that U.S. intelligence estimates once rated as impossible.

In 1965, when it was decided to send about 120,000 American troops to rescue South Vietnam from the prospect of defeat, senior U.S. military officers said it was preposterous to think North Vietnam could resist, let alone turn back, a predicted allied victory tide.

But by mid-1967 Hanoi's determination to counter the allied offensive, regardless of the cost in blood and national resources, has forced Washington to a crossroad in the seven-year war.

American and Vietnamese military sources say that, unless 100,000 to 140,000 U.S. troops are sent, the allies may be forced gradually into a defensive posture that could end in stalemate.

This could mean the loss of any hope for a negotiated peace favorable to the allied side.

Even if Washington agrees to all of the recommendations by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander, more troops might be needed later.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, who is on his ninth inspection tour of Vietnam, will recommend to President Johnson how many more troops than the presently authorized 475,000 should be sent. The impression in Saigon is that at least 30,000 to 40,000 more will be authorized. There are 466,000 here now.

But McNamara and the administration must weigh considerations the military men don't have to contend with.

To send 100,000 more men probably would mean three divisions together with helicopter, supply and other support units.

Military men here believe this would involve a partial mobilization of reserves, higher draft quotas, higher battle casualties, an additional $10 billion or more in defense spending, the possibility of a tax increase and dislocations in the civilian economy.

Concern is voiced also about the effect of another major buildup on South Vietnam. Saigon sources cite the already overheated economy, government troops who seem to fight a little less with the arrival of each new U.S. division and possible effects on the campaign for winning the allegiance of the peasants.

The Americans, hailed in 1965 as the saviors of Vietnam, have lost luster from their public image for a number of reasons. One is the terrific amount of bombing and artillery used in the countryside.

One well-informed source cit-

The Mature Parent Ease Resentment Husband Feels at Uprooting Family

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE:
For 11 years our home has been a big, old-fashioned rambling house on the outskirts of a suburb. Our older children's friends are all youngsters they've known since the first grade. Now my husband's firm is transferring him to a city 500 miles away from this home we love. Our two older youngsters are both terribly resentful over this move. Their father is impatient with them. He says they are old enough to understand that it means promotion in his firm, more money for us all and...

ANSWER: He's not impatient with them. He's just mad at himself because he has to hurt them.

Between you and me, I think he needs some comfort, because he's got two sadnesses whereas you and the children have only one. He not only shares your sadness at leaving this home you all love but also has to manage the sadness of imposing its loss on you and the children.

Oh yes, I think he needs cheering up. So why don't you and the children remind him that your resentment at this move isn't resentment at all but appreciation of him and these 11 happy years he has given you? Why don't you all get together, you and the children, to say to him:

"But look, it's our love of this home you have given us that makes us so mad at leaving it! It's not criticism of what you are doing. It's love for what you have done."

That's what he needs to hear. I'm almost sure. For he has completely misread the meaning of his family's resentment at losing his home. Once it's explained to him as the appreciation it actually is, he can stop thinking of himself as a brute you all hate and maybe begin to feel less impatience with the children's disappointment.

It's awfully hard for us to impose disappointment in people we love. It's so hard that when they look disappointed and reproachful, we get wild at them for making us feel such painful self-reproach. And if those people can't see past our anger at them to that pain we feel, everybody gets awfully mixed up. We all retire to different corners and glower at each other. Which is pretty silly when one considers that all this mutual impatience and resentment is just the result of our refusal to know what our real feelings are.

CLAIM TENREC BIGGEST DROPOUT IN ANIMAL WORLD

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Two Princeton University psychologists report that a beast called the tenrec may be the animal kingdom's champion dropout.

It has one talent: It is the only known mammal which can make sounds by rubbing parts of its body together, like a grasshopper.

Apart from that, nothing. If a tenrec gets cold, it drops dead. It pays not the slightest attention to electrical shocks. It ignores tests using food as an incentive, and it gives off a horrible smell.

The tenrec is found only on the island of Madagascar, off the southeastern coast of Africa. A little smaller than a rat, it has black and white fur, a long pointed nose and clusters of quills on its neck and back.

It makes noises by rubbing the quills together. This intrigued researchers Ernest Glen Weyer and Paul N. Herman of the Princeton University Auditory Research Laboratory.

Seeking to explore a theory that tenrecs communicate by means of their quill-rubbing noises, they imported 20 for experiments.

A brief power failure cut off the laboratory heating and three of the tenrecs rolled over and died. One of them apparently was boss of the herd and a fierce battle for succession broke out immediately. When the air cleared of quills, only five tenrecs were still alive.

The scientists operated on four of these to implant electrodes which might provide a clue to whether they can hear their own noise. All four died. That left one lonely tenrec and Weyer and Herman had to wash their hands of the experiment—literally, since lab workers described the smell of the tenrecs as fantastic.

The tenrec, Herman said, proved to be "a uniquely frustrating laboratory animal" which "simply showed no inclination to learn."

In 1212, an army of 30,000 boys and girls, most of them less than 12 years old, set forth to free the Holy Land. The children's crusade was led by a French shepherd lad named Stephen. Mary of the children died en route.

FINDING THE WAY

Endure Situations? Yes!
But Accept Them? No!

Dr. Lucv

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
What's an acceptable way of life? The ancient prophet Isaiah said that, among other things, he had been sent to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord. That meant justice for mankind, compassion for the suffering, liberty for the imprisoned and a new sense of godliness. This was to be proclaimed!

Our problem is that so much that we know to be wrong is still accepted. It isn't that we believe the situation to be right. We can't justify slums, lack of educational facilities, slaughter on the highway, our own personal problems of a bad temper or slovenliness. It's just that we decide that we can't do anything about these things and so, for us, they become acceptable.

Take the ugly issue of war. These have been weeks which have surrounded us with the possibility of increasing horror. We are all willing to say that war is wrong. Yet we live in a time of war psychosis when we accept war.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., asks for all-out war and too many of us applaud. To make war acceptable is to insist that the language of violence and military power are the only forms of language that can be understood. If you believe that, then diplomatic efforts such as United Nations, as well as every other form of international discussion, are cynical shams. Even those who wage war ought to insist that war is wrong. This isn't a matter of being a "hawk" or a "dove." It's just recognizing tragedy. War is the tragedy of a failure; it ought not to be baptized as "the acceptable year of the Lord."

Then there is the problem of pollution. I'm astonished at the numbers of good citizens who assume that pollution is the natural by-product of civilization and therefore there's nothing that can be done about it.

It is only because some dedicated heroes of the past decided to do something about slavery or child labor or pollution or any number of such disasters that men were jolted from the mind-set of accepting the tragedy.

Marcel Quist, the interesting French priest who jogs our consciences, writes, "Would you dare to say: 'I didn't beat my wife this week: I didn't put poison in her food... therefore I love her?' Then don't say, 'I did nothing to hurt my neighbor this week... therefore I love him. I've fulfilled the law.'"

"The Lord has commanded us not only not to do evil to our neighbor (the pagans do as much) but to love our neighbors as ourselves."

"If you are more gifted, if you are more resourceful or virtuous than your neighbor, then you ought to help him in every possible way to become capable of helping himself. There is no end to loving others."

We may have "to put up" with all too many tragedies in these days. But to accept them is intolerable.

Tradition says the dog mart show held at Fredericksburg, Va., began back when Indians traded for the settlers' hunting dogs.

MRS. KILLAM HOSTESS TO LIBERTY CLUB

Mrs. Harry Killam was hostess July 5 to members of the Liberty Woman's Club. The president, Mrs. Charles Cook, presided.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Fred Killam. Mrs. Charles Cook presented the program. Mrs. Russell Morris was in charge of recreation. Mrs. Charles Cook, Ruth Burmeister, and Candy Killam received prizes.

The six guests were Jean Martinez, Debbie Burmeister, Susie and Becky Cook, and Candy and Bill Killam.

The family pot-luck will be held at 6:30 p.m., August 2, at Nichols Park.

The water, according to most scientists, was the birthplace of life. Oldest known fossils are of marine origin.

For those millions of women who must wear prescription lenses, these are favorable times. MOUTH PURIFICATION

Gold, zircons and other jewels were sucked by 16th-century English ladies and gentlemen to purify the breath. They believed the valuable jewels and metals had virtuous qualities. One of the new mouthwashes today relies on a test-tube combination of benzethonium chloride to cut down the germ count in the mouth. Not as romantic but probably more effective.

NOTHING LIKE AN ARGUMENT

There's nothing quite as interesting to the true sports fan as a good argument... especially when neither side can be proven.

A debate is not nearly as interesting, or does it get as heated, when a date, name or figure can be dug out to settle it. The really good arguments are those that are 20-50 years old and have never been settled. One can work on those all night and still come out feeling he is right.

Baseball being the game with many years over most others that command attention today, a good share of the discussions concern our National Pastime.

FOR INSTANCE... how come there are far fewer .300 hitters in the major leagues today than there were back in the days of Ruth, Gehrig and Cobb? Whereas hitters over the magic number used to be numerous, an ordinary year now leaves one able to count them on both hands, and that's from both leagues.

Hall-of-famer Ted Williams, who knows a thing or two about hitting, offers his thoughts in an article in the current issue of THE SPORTING NEWS. Consider:

—A huge percentage of all major league games played today are held under the lights, and baseball players agree that this not only cuts down on seeing the ball, but it likewise shortens the careers of the players. There were no night games 30 years ago.

—WHEN a pitcher started a game back in the Ruthian era, he was expected to finish it. Nothing short of a broken arm would get him out. Batters could expect a pitcher to tire in the late innings. Now, a couple of hits or walks, and in comes a new pitcher. It is not uncommon for a major league team to use four, five or even six pitchers in a nine-inning game, all coming in fresh.

—Almost all pitchers have added the slider to their arsenal... and batters claim it may very well be the toughest pitch of all to stroke for a hit. The slider also cuts down on the batters' percentage of guessing the pitch from one in three to one in four.

—BATTERS today know the home run is where the money is, and they sacrifice batting averages for the long ball.

To Williams' points we might add: today there are far fewer minor leagues, and therefore major leaguers get less training in preparation for the big time; the extra eight games a year since the 154-game schedule was dropped is bound to mean a few points a year for the guy who plays every game, whereas the pitcher works only one game in four.

Convinced? Those are all legitimate points, but like any argument, there has to be two sides. How about these for comebacks:

—It is generally accepted that a much 'livelier' ball is used today, thus allowing the batter to hit the ball with more velocity and thus enhance his chances of getting the ball between the fielders, not to mention the home runs.

—PRACTICALLY all the ball parks in the majors today are much larger, giving the batter more room to hit. The more room a fielder has to cover, the better chance the hitter has of dropping the ball away from them.

—Airplane travel has greatly shortened the time players must spend on the road between series, thus allowing them more rest time and more comfortable accommodations.

—As a rule, this age's ballplayers are bigger, faster and stronger, as proven by records in all sports falling steadily.

Now what do you think? As you can see, if you take one side or the other, the other fellow could not convince you otherwise. But then, that's what makes a good argument.

HERE 'N' THERE: Jacksonville High school basketball coach Frank Long says of the recently finished basketball camp, "We were very pleased with our first camp and feel the boys accomplished a great deal. Each boy participated in 40 hours of basketball and basketball fundamentals during the four-week period. We certainly hope to see the boys trying to wear out their baskets and basketballs around town."

THE RETIRED Men's Golf League, sponsored by the Jacksonville YMCA, will begin play this Monday morning at 9:30 a.m. The Nichols Park golf course will be the site for the league and scores will be determined on a handicap basis. All retired men are invited to join.

A SPECIAL vote of thanks to Mr. Les Luttrell, the official scorer of all Pony and Colt games this summer, for a most faithful job of reporting the games to this department. His cooperation has been excellent.

Fading Cubs Drop 6th Straight 3-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Jim Wynn and Eddie Mathews slugged sixth inning home runs, breaking a tie and pushing Houston to a 3-1 victory over the sinking Chicago Cubs, who have lost six straight games.

Wynn, the National League runs batted in leader, opened the sixth with his 21st homer into the left field seats, tying him with Hank Aaron for the league lead. One out later, Mathews tagged loser Ray Culp, 6-7, for his sixth homer of the season and 499th of his career.

Dave Giusti, 5-8, stopped the Cubs on four hits and one unearned run before his arm stiffened after eight innings, and Mike Cuellar finished.

Sonny Jackson doubled and Rusty Staub singled him home as the Astros took a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Chicago tied it in the fifth when Adolfo Phillips tripled and scored on John Bateman's passed ball on a third strike which would have

BULLETIN

ATLANTA (AP) — Steve Spurrier of Florida, booed for earlier inaccuracy, tossed a 40-yard touchdown pass to Gene Washington of Michigan State with three minutes left, lifting the East to a 12-9 victory over the west in the Coaches All-America football game Saturday night.

Little League

The Dodgers clinched the National League flag, while the Orioles took a big step toward doing the same in a pair of Little League make-up games Saturday night.

The Dodgers knocked off the Braves, 8-3, to insure the first place finish. Cliff Rimbey and David Pack each slammed a pair of singles for the winners, while Tony Gotschall collected two singles for the losers.

The Orioles notched an 8-2 victory over the Tigers with the help of a triple play that went 4-3-6 after a fly ball caught in the outfield. The Orioles are now 11-2 to the Indians' 10-5 mark, with three games remaining.

REDLEGS DROP PAIR

QUINCY — Quincy dealt the Jacksonville Redlegs two more defeats here Saturday night, 6-3 and 11-4, extending the Redlegs' losing streak to five games.

Bob Turner slammed a homer and double for the evening, and Fred Curtis contributed a triple and double in losing causes.

The Redlegs are now 14-25.

HOT SUMMER WORK, but heavyweights George Chuvalo of Canada, left, and Joe Frazier of Philadelphia are hopeful their gymnasium labors will lead them to the vacant throne. They are scheduled to meet in a 12-round at Madison Square Garden July 19, with the winner set to take on other contenders in the next few months.

Ryun Adds Another World Track Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP) —

America's Jim Ryun shattered the world record for the 1,500-meter run Saturday with a time of 3 minutes 33.1 seconds in the United States—British Commonwealth track and field meet.

The University of Kansas sophomore, already holder of the mile record at 3:51.1, whipped Kenya's Kipchoge Keino by nearly 25 yards as he bettered Australian Herb Elliott's seven-year-old metric mile record of 3:35.6.

JIM RYUN

After the first lap, when Canada's Dave Bailey set the pace with Ryan and Keino running fifth and sixth, the race became a two-man affair.

Keino swung into the lead trying to draw out but Ryun kept right at his heels until he started a sprint with less than a lap to go and finished 2½ seconds better than Elliott's time in the 1960 Olympics. Statisticians figured the 1,500-meter time the equivalent of a 3:48.5 mile. Keino finished at 3:37.3 with Alan Simpson of England third at 3:41.7.

Grelle Fifth

Then in order came Bailey, 3:41.7, Jim Grelle of the United States, 3:43.6 and Dave Wilborn, USA, 3:51.2.

Lennox Miller of Jamaica, who attends the University of Southern California, grabbed a first place for the Commonwealth with a 10.1 timing in the 100-meter dash, an event where two Yanks were disqualified for two false starts apiece.

Nebraska's Charlie Greene, the only surviving U.S. representative took second. Both Jimmy Hines and Willie Turner were ruled out of the race.

The United States swept the 110-meter hurdles with Willie Davenport, Richmond Flowers and Earl McCullough finishing 1-2-3 in a blanket finish with the winner timed at 13.6 seconds.

Another United States sweep came in the shot put with world record holder Randy Matson winning at 67-1½ followed by Dave Maggard at 64-1¼ and Neal Steinhauer at 63-1¼.

The United States 400-meter relay team of McCullough, Jerry Bright, Ron Copeland and Hines equalled the listed world record of 39.0 seconds.

Paul Wilson won the pole vault at 17-5 but missed while trying to boost his world record to 17-9.

America's men's team piled up a big margin, as expected, with a lead of 119-80. The American girls' team led 59-58 at the end of the opening day's events in the two-day meet.

McLain Blanks Red Sox, 2-0, On Four-Hitter

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain fired a four-hitter and set up Detroit's first run with a key single as the Detroit Tigers blanked the Boston Red Sox 2-0 Saturday.

It was the sixth straight victory for the second-place Tigers. Boston has dropped four in a row.

The Tigers bunched two of their five hits and pushed across an unearned run off Lee Stange in the third.

Rico Petrocelli booted Ray Oyler's grounder with one out. McLain singled and Lenny Green followed with a base hit, pushing Oyler around.

Virginia Wins 5-1 In Legion Meet

PITTSFIELD — Don Kording tossed two-hit ball and Virginia exploded for four runs in the top of the sixth inning for a 5-1 victory over Jerseyville in the Pittsfield District American Legion Tournament here Saturday afternoon.

Virginia will now play the winner of today's Jerseyville-Pittsfield game, at 1 p.m., in a 3 p.m. game. If Virginia loses, the same two teams will meet next weekend for the right to advance to the Jerseyville Divisional Tournament July 22-23.

Kording fanned 14 and walked three in giving up two singles. He fanned the side in the sixth with two men on.

Virginia scored in the third after Jerseyville pushed across an unearned tally in the second as Kording reached on an error, took second on a wild pitch, stole third and scored on a passed ball.

The winners iced the game in the sixth. Cal Forman singled, Dan Dearing beat out a bunt and Mike Hardy walked to load the bases with none out. Dearing was called out for interference and Forman was forced at home before Bill Mau's double chased in two runs. A wild throw allowed the final two runs to cross.

Javier's Home Run Wins In 12th, 6-4

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

Julian Javier lined a three-run inside-the-park home run with two out in the 12th inning, propelling the National League leading St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-4 victory over Philadelphia Saturday night.

Javier, who doubled home a run in the third inning, circled the bases when his shot off Dick Hall got past center fielder John Briggs after Lou Brock reached base on Gary Sutherland's throwing error and Eddie Bressoud singled. It was his eighth homer.

Phil Linz homered for Philadelphia's final run in the bottom half of the inning.

The Phillies lost a chance to win in the 11th when Tony Taylor doubled, but Gene Oliver was thrown out at the plate trying to score from first base.

John Callison's 10th homer leading off the ninth against Bob Gibson pulled Philadelphia into a 3-3 tie.

Favored NL After 5th Straight Win

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) —

The favored National League, still smarting from the 1966 World Series disaster, takes dead aim at a record fifth straight All-Star game victory over the American League Tuesday in a unique twilight game at Anaheim Stadium.

In an effort to gain wider fan appeal, Commissioner William D. Eckert has set a 4:15 p.m. PDT (7:15 p.m. EDT) starting time for the contest. That will take the telecast over NBC into prime evening hours in the eastern section of the country.

Willie Mays and Mickey Mantle will play unusual walk-on roles as substitutes when the teams renew their midsummer rivalry with the 38th of the series. The National League, once outdistanced and humiliated by the American League, now owns a 19-17 edge and boasts a four-game winning streak.

Different Arrangements
Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Hank Bauer of the Baltimore Orioles, the managers of last year's Series rivals, meet again under somewhat different circumstances. Both the Dodgers and the Orioles have been rolling around in the second division most of the year. If both make it to the Series again, it will be a shocking upset.

and one of his pet theories is that lefthanded hitters should wait and hit to left field.

Harry promptly ripped a foul down the rightfield line. "Every-one in the dugout started laughing and yelling and motioning toward left," Tarry said. "Hit it down there," they were telling me and pointing to left field."

Harry came close. He dribbled a ball off the plate which rolled about 15 feet toward the third base side of the pitcher's mound.

Walker took off. "I ran as hard as I ever did," he said, laughing. "But not as fast. I think I got down there as quickly as half this ball club gets to first."

Harry's rightfielder is Roberto Clemente, who often calls the Pirates' team meetings, usually after Harry has said something about Roberto not hustling.

Well, there's Harry perched on first base. Bill Knoch, who had a trial with the Pirates, was the pitcher for Columbus. Harry stood on first watching a n d waiting and then before you could say Maury Wills, he was off and running for second.

The Columbus catcher was so startled that he dropped the ball and Harry Walker had a stolen base.

The fans were screaming and Harry was looking in toward the Pirate dugout. The Pirates, puzzled looks on their faces, were staring back at him.

Then Billy O'Dell hit safely and Harry tore around third base and made it home safely.

"I felt it the next day," Harry admitted. "But I had fun."

The Pirates all had a good laugh, too.

Harry Walker smiled. Was he trying to tell his team something?

More important. Were they listening?

Set City Tennis Tourney

Final arrangements have been completed for the third annual JOURNAL-COURIER Jacksonville City Tennis Tournament this summer. There will be few changes in the tourney this year.

The tournament will be held on consecutive weekends, Aug. 4-5-6 and Aug. 12-13. All matches will be held on the new MacMurray courts at the corner of Hardin and Brook streets.

The popular event will again have divisions for both men and women, with the men's class sliced into three separate age brackets.

The women's division will include all ages, while the men's will be separated into boys (14 and under); juniors (14-18) and seniors (18 and over). In addition there will be mixed doubles and men's doubles. Aug. 1 will be the cutoff birthdate to determine divisions in the men's singles.

Participants are limited to three divisions. Boys division entrants may play in the juniors or seniors classes, and the juniors may advance to the seniors class.

The deadline for entering the tournament will be July 26, one week before the meet begins. Jacksonville tennis coach Manuel Velasco will again serve as tournament manager.

Trophies will again be awarded to winners and runners-up in each division. A nominal entry fee of 31 will be charged for each division entered.

Only those people living in Jacksonville, South Jacksonville or in School District 117 are eligible to enter the tournament.

Entry blanks for entering the meet will appear daily in the sports section of the JOURNAL-COURIER.

Alvis Not Worried By Competition

By PHILI LEE

CLEVELAND — (NEA) — With Brooks Robinson on the ballot, the voting for All-Star third baseman in the American League figured to be as exciting as an election for premier of Russia.

While the Oriole smoothie still won it in a walk, Max Alvis of the Cleveland Indians merits support for taking the field as a starter at Anaheim, Calif., July 11.

Max Alvis

Max, a 29-year-old, six year veteran from Jasper, Tex., had been gathering one of those ignominious stigmas of "not living up to his potential." His lifetime batting average of .254 didn't scare top echelon AL pitchers or boost his personal Dow-Jones rating — last year he dipped to .245.

He gathered more dust the first one-fourth of the 1967 season, lounging with a .214 mark that added to the headaches of platooning manager Joe Adcock, who stuck with Max.

Joe was rewarded. Maxie, known as a ballplayer who tired himself out fretting, quit — in his own words — being a "superwarrior" and went on a hitting tear that boosted him to a team high average of .276 at the one-third point of the season.

Alvis also grabbed the team lead in runs batted in. Oriole Robby, slumping at .247 and only 23 RBI three weeks before All-Star time, is aiding the Alvis drive.

But modest Max still favors Robinson for the starting role on the All-Stars: "I don't care what Brooks is hitting. He's still the greatest guy I've ever seen. He's my choice," he says.

Besides, the rest of the competition is on the down side statistically. Only Rich Rollins of the Twins had a higher average than Alvis. Danny Cater of the Athletics already committed his vote to Alvis "over all the HOUSTON (AP) — Two-run doubles by Ron Davis and Bob Aspromonte keyed a five-run Houston fourth inning that started the Astros to an 11-5 victory over Chicago Friday night.

It was the fifth straight loss for the second place Cubs and shoved them 2½ games back of first place St. Louis.

Houston was trailing 3-1 when Chuck Harrison and Dave Adlesh opened the fourth with singles. Winning pitcher Barry Latman, who worked 5-2-3 innings of two-hit relief, sacrificed the runners along and Davis doubled them home.

After Sonny Jackson bounced out, Jim Wynn walked and Rusty Staub singled Davis across. Then Aspromonte, who had driven in a run in the first, tagged his double, climaxing the five-run burst.

Finley Quiet On New Reports Of Move Attempt

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner Charles O. Finley was mum Friday on reports he may renew efforts to shift the franchise of his Kansas City Athletics.

Finley, Chicago insurance executive, tossed a "no comment" at queries concerning a possible switch of the A's to Oakland, Calif., or possibly Milwaukee, Wis.

"But why don't you ask me about our attendance at Kansas City this season?" Finley told an Associated Press reporter.

"I'll tell you anyway. We're down 74,267 in attendance and $198,000 in receipts from last year," said Finley without further comment.

One report has it that Finley, who has shown no interest in plans for a multipurpose stadium in Kansas City, will canvas American League owners on a possible franchise shift at the All-Star game in Anaheim, Calif., next week.

Asked if he would go to Anaheim, Finley said: "No comment."

The major leagues have their annual midsummer meeting in Chicago Aug. 2-3-4, but Finley shrugged off a question as to the possibility of American League action on a switch of the A's.

"I don't know what is on the agenda," Finley said.

rest."

Why the sudden change in Alvis?

"My batting style is a combination of Adcock and Alvis now," Max explains. "I'm aiming at consistency. Also, I've changed my attitude. When I go hitless, I'm not going to worry and mess with myself. I'm trying to relax."

"These things have worn me out in the past. I've got to keep going for over 100 games. I've got to hold it. I think I can, but I've never done it yet."

Max was serious. The taciturn Texan actually cracked a smile once when he blooped a double for his first hit of the season after a dry opening week. He has been threatening to erupt in a chuckle recently.

Versalles' Error Lets Sox Win, 2-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Two runs scored when shortstop Zoilo Versalles booted Ron Hansen's bases-loaded grounder with two out in the ninth inning, giving the Chicago White Sox a 2-1 victory over Minnesota Friday night that ended the Twins' winning streak at eight games.

The triumph increased Chicago's American League lead over the second place Twins to 3½ games.

The White Sox, blanked on five hits by Dean Chance until the ninth, loaded the bases with one out on Tom McCraw's single and walks to Jim King and J. C. Martin.

Al Worthington then replaced Chance and got Don Buford to foul out before Hansen's bouncer skipped through Versalles, allowing McCraw and pinch runner Charlie Bradford to score.

Hoyt Wilhelm picked up the victory in relief of left-hander Gary Peters, who gave up a first inning run on doubles by Cesar Tovar and Tony Oliva, then held the Twins hitless until going out for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Jones greeted Jack Lamabe, the third Met pitcher, with his 11th homer, enabling Atlanta reliever Claude Raymond to pick up his fourth victory in nine decisions.

Joe Torre, who hammered his 12th homer in the second inning, stroked a run-scoring single with one out in the ninth, lifting the Braves into a 2-2 tie.

Hank Aaron led off the ninth with a double, the sixth hit off Met starter Bob Hendley, and moved over to third on a ground out before Torre singled to left against reliever Hal Reniff.

Friday's Sports

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Julian Javier's two-run single highlighted a four-run sixth inning which carried the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night.

With the score 1-1, Lou Brock started the sixth with a single and Bob Tolan walked. The runners advanced on an infield out, and Brock scored when Tony Taylor threw too late to the plate after taking Orlando Cepeda's high chopper toward first.

Tim McCarver walked loading the bases and Mike Shannon fanned before Javier drilled a single to right scoring Tolan and Cepeda. When John Callison's throw sailed past catcher Gene Oliver for an error, Cepeda also scored.

The errant throw skidded past Oliver and smashed Phillies' pitcher Larry Jackson on the nose, causing severe lacerations. Jackson, who lost his ninth in 15 decisions, was forced to leave the game. X-rays will be taken Saturday.

The National League leading Cardinals took a 1-0 lead in the second on a walk, Shannon's double and a fielder's choice. Doubles by Jackson and Tony Taylor accounted for a Phillies' run in the third off winning pitcher Steve Carlton.

Shaving Strokes

By FRANK BEARD

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

After you have developed your game to the point that you can score fairly well, you will see that your bad holes can be attributed directly to bad drives. And this usually comes from the fact you don't know how to keep the ball in play after you are off the tee. You cannot consistently hit the ball straight with the same type of drive every time. You must have a variety of drives that you can call upon under different circumstances. Remember wind conditions vary, the width of fairways can change, and different types of holes call for different drives.

The drive that I have found to be most successful in keeping the ball in play is what I call a "squibbler." It resembles a low fade and is not a very pretty shot. However, it is very effective and keeps the ball in play. I play the ball back in my stance somewhat and open the stance up a few degrees. I don't actually use a full swing but more of a punch type swing employing a slight cutting action. The shot comes off to the left a bit and fades back into the middle very nicely. I don't get much distance with this shot, but my control is almost flawless. I use it in very tight situations

CONSIDERING CORPORATE OPERATION?

Incorporation is generally a possibility in any business of adequate size. Many family farms are large enough to consider corporate operation.

In farm corporations shareholders often are persons who have worked together in the past — parents and children, brothers and sisters, landlords and tenants, existing farm partnerships or entire farm families. But past working relationships are not necessary.

People who have never been associated in business may find that incorporation is the solution to their problems. Unrelated individuals who separately do not have enough capital to become established in farming might combine their assets to advantage in a farm corporation.

For farmers planning an operation involving high risk such as truck farming or sheep-feeding, the corporation is a way to limit possible losses to the assets in the business. And when farming is only a part of an individual's total business enterprise, he may consider incorporating his farm business to protect his outside assets.

The advantages of a corporate operation are these:

- Limited liability. A shareholder is liable for debts of a corporation only to the extent of the shares of stock he owns. But it must be kept in mind that if a corporation becomes insolvent, shares in it are worthless. If this happens and all of a farmer's assets are in shares of the corporation, he loses all of his property.

Easy transfer of ownership. The owner of a share of stock may sell it, leave it to designated persons by will, make a gift of it, or allow it to go to his heirs by law of descent, without breaking up the business. Shares of stock also provide a simple way for the oncoming generation to gradually buy into the farm business.

Continuity of operation. A corporation exists as long as the shareholders desire it and it fulfills the requirements of the law. It can continue to function throughout the changes in ownership caused by one generation replacing another, because shares of stock, rather than farmland, livestock and equipment, are passed to the next generation.

Possible increased efficiency. The very nature of incorporation compels the keeping of accurate records, which is more easily neglected under other business systems. Keeping adequate records, advance planning and reporting results tend to promote efficiency.

Possible tax advantages. In some cases it is possible to reduce income taxes by incorporation. The first $25,000 of taxable corporate income is taxed at 22 per cent. An additional 26 per cent is charged on income over $25,000.

At certain levels of farm income, therefore, taxes may be reduced by splitting the income between the individual (or individuals) and the corporation. However, money retained in the corporation cannot later be paid out to the individual shareholders without further taxation.

Means of improving credit status and pooling capital. Corporate organization, by bringing capital together under a single, unified control, may attract even more capital and improve the credit status of the business.

There is a continuity of operation and lenders and investors prefer to deal with the unified and assumedly able management that they expect to find in a corporation. In addition, a corporation allows a pooling of assets from various sources.

Fringe benefits. Shareholders can be employees of their corporation. As employees, they are eligible for fringe benefits such as retirement plans, tax-free medical benefits, group life insurance and deferred compensation.

Among the disadvantages of corporate operation are the following:

Initial cost of incorporation. A corporation must pay certain fees and taxes that are not required for other types of business organizations. Also, there are legal fees for preparing documents. Even a small corporation may have a $300 to $400 bill for initial taxes and charges.

Capital stock tax. This is unique to corporations and is a personal property tax on intangibles. Usually it is not high, but some farmers have incorporated out of state to avoid this tax.

Formality of organization and operation. The law is quite specific about procedures required in operating a corporation. The management must be handled by shareholders, directors and officers, each performing the duties and exercising the powers granted him by the law.

Restricted market for shares. Where the majority shareholding members are not willing to purchase shares of a minority member, a difficult situation can arise. There may not be a ready outside market for shares in a closely held family corporation. This could create a locked-in position for a minority shareholder unless he sells his shares at less than actual value.

Comment: It should be evident that the question of using a corporation is a complex matter. The answer requires the help of an attorney. If you think the advantages of corporation merit further consideration, get an attorney's advice.

Illinois State Fair To Attract 13,000 Head Of Livestock

Agriculture, better known in modern day parlance as Agribusiness, will vie with science and contemporary attractions at the 115-year-old Illinois State Fair to present a modern exposition to well over a million exhibitors, contestants, concessionaires and observers.

The annual extravaganza, believed to be the biggest, richest and most colorful of the nation's showplaces, will offer something for every possible interest in its ten day run from August 11 through the 20th.

Sprawling over the 366 acres will be livestock and music competition; horse, auto and stock car races; performances by nationally-known entertainers; agricultural and industrial exhibits; carnivals and games.

More than $1 million in prizes, trophies and ribbons will be offered for the best in every category. Some 13,000 livestock entries will compete for more than $100,000 in premium awards. Illinois breeders (Land of Lincoln) will get an additional $150,000.

The Society Horse Show in the Coliseum will attract more than 2,000 of the finest horses in the nation to take away nearly $150,000 in blue ribbons and cash for the top winners.

State Fair officials, always conservative in estimates of attendance, are confident that one and a quarter million may be counted this year because of some unusual attractions scheduled in addition to the regular fare.

Among them is the General Motors Chevy Show and the Sinclair Refining Company's New York World's Fair Dinosaur exhibit. Both of these attractions predict an average attendance of 250,000 persons. With the fair running at the million mark, this could make the 1967 exhibition an all-time record stealer.

Opening day, Friday, August 11, will witness one of the biggest and most gala sendoffs. Gov. Otto Kerner will officiate at opening ceremonies at about noon accompanied by Mrs. Kerner, General Manager Franklin Rust and Miss Judi Ford, Belevide, Miss Illinois County Fair Queen.

Every year thousands of children are poisoned by an insecticide, herbicide, cleaning fluid or some other household cleaning agent.

Chemicals used for insect, rodent and weed control are well as many cleaning agents are marked "CAUTION" and adequate warning is given to keep out of reach of children.

But children continue to get poisoned.

Take precautions to keep potentially dangerous substances where children can not get to them and teach children that there are things that they do not touch or play with. By so doing many heart-breaking accidents can be prevented.

Now you should...

- ...Mow weeds.
- ...Drink plenty of water.
- ...Worm pigs.
- ...Water livestock.
- ...Clean out the shop.
- ...Take a walk.
- ...Check tires.
- ...Visit.

If you have sowed sudan grass or one of the new sorghum-sudan hybrids for pasture be sure you let it get tall enough (over 18 inches) to prevent prussic acid poisoning before you start pasturing it.

Check your lights, markers, etc., on your tractor and machinery before taking them out on the road. We've used them quite a bit and they sometimes get in bad condition.

If you need to make changes in your corn harvesting equipment or storage it's time you started. Corn harvest isn't far away.

Farmer Feeds Himself, And 38.56 Others

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture increased its efficiency rate again last year by nearly 7 per cent.

The Agriculture Department's annual report on farm efficiency said one American farmworker produced, on the average, sufficient farm products to supply himself and 38.56 other persons. This compared with an average of 37.02 persons, including himself, in 1965.

The cropland harvested last year totaled 289 million acres, the smallest in this century. The peak was 348 million in the 1920-24 period.

Computerized Pedigree To Tell Performance

Another "first" in the beef cattle industry has been scored. Effective Aug. 1 the American Angus association, headquartered in St. Joseph, Mo., will offer performance pedigrees to members who are taking part in the Angus Herd Improvement Record program.

On the face of the new pedigree form will be three generations of ancestry. Individual measurements for weaning weights and grades, yearling weights and grades, weight ratios, and herd classification scores of all animals will be shown when this information is available. The pedigree form also will list the progeny record of the animal's sire and dam which can include carcass evaluation measurements, too.

On the reverse side of the pedigree are spaces for a complete production record of the animal's progeny. If a cow, it will list the important production measure results and conformation scores of all her calves and yearlings. This may be up-dated each year to show her produce of dam record. If a sire, the bull's progeny averages will be listed and these also may be brought up-to-date each year.

All the information on the new performance pedigrees will be printed by the association's computer. They are the first truly complete pedigrees listing all known productiveness results ever offered in the beef industry.

The cost is $2.00 each.

HOG PRODUCTION LEVELING OFF

Hog producers are keeping a close eye on hog numbers and the market price of hogs. The June Pig Crop Report indicated that the December, 1966-May, 1967 pig crop of 46 million was up 1 per cent from the 45.6 million figure for the same period a year earlier.

While the spring pig crop was 1 per cent greater than in 1966 (and 8 per cent above the 1965 figure), it was 5 per cent smaller than the 5-year (1961-65) average. (The spring pig crop includes pigs born from December 1 to June 1. These pigs are marketed mostly from July 1 to January 1.)

From these data we might assume that market supplies will be about 1 per cent larger than during the last half of 1966. In the 10 Corn Belt states, the December, 1966-February, 1967 pig crop was 5 per cent above that for the same period a year ago. The March-May, 1967 pig crop was 3 per cent less than a year earlier. These percentage changes are similar to changes for the U.S. crop.

The number of hogs on feed in the 10 Corn Belt states on June 1 in the 120-pound-and-up range was 4 per cent more than a year ago, while the number under 120 pounds was about 2.5 per cent less than a year earlier. The heavier group of hogs will make up the market supply during July and August. The lighter group will provide the market hogs from September through December.

We may expect July and August hog prices to remain slightly below those of a year ago. Toward the end of this year, prices may be a little stronger than they were last year in November and December.

What are the prospects for the remainder of the 1967 production? U.S. hog producers indicate that they intend to farrow 5,452,000 sows during June-November, 1967. This is a 3-per cent decrease from the year-earlier level.

If farmers can save 7.27 pigs per litter (equal to the 1965 level), then a fall pig crop of 85,549,000 would be realized—1 per cent fewer pigs than in the fall of 1966.

With 2-to-3 per cent fewer hogs available for market on January 1 and a slight reduction in fall farrowings, we should see a slight increase in market prices during the first part of 1968, over the 1967 early-winter marketings.

Top Dairy Cows Now In 1,000 lb. Class

More than 4,200 Illinois cows enrolled in Dairy Herd Improvement associations each produced 600 pounds or more butterfat during 1966.

Each of these cows completed her production record in a 305-day lactation and qualified for membership in the Illinois 600-Pound Butterfat Cow Club.

More registered cows qualified than did grade cows. Of all cows that produced more than 600 pounds of butterfat, 55 percent were registered. Only 42 percent of all cows tested for butterfat production were registered.

Robert Hunter, Antioch, owned the top cow of all breeds. Hunter's registered Holstein cow produced 29,560 pounds of milk and 1,103 pounds of butterfat.

Other Holstein cows that produced more than 1,000 pounds of fat in 1966 are owned by Arthur Bruens and sons, Cissna Park, 1,023 pounds; Foster Walk, Neoga, 1,009 pounds; and Hunter, 1,005 pounds.

A registered Guernsey cow owned by Rosewood Farms, Roselle, topped that breed with 1,015 pounds of butterfat.

Gilbert Bigham and sons, Pinckneyville, own both the top Jersey and Ayrshire cows. Their registered Jersey cow produced 1,005 pounds of butterfat. Their registered Ayrshire produced 901 pounds.

The highest-producing Brown Swiss cow, owned by Raymond and Robert Kaiser, Dakota, produced 887 pounds of butterfat.

University of Illinois extension dairy specialists organized the 500-Pound Butterfat Cow Club 44 years ago to emphasize important principles of high and profitable milk production and to focus attention on high-producing dairy cows and herds in Illinois. Improvement in per-cow butterfat production prompted the club in 1959 to change its qualification for membership from 500 pounds to 600 pounds of butterfat produced in one 305-day lactation.

CASH RECEIPTS DOWN FOR FARM PRODUCTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported Saturday that cash receipts from the sale of farm products during the January-May period this year was down about 2 per cent from a year earlier.

This reduction in cash income reflected a 5 per cent lower farm product price level.

"If farm prices raise as expected later this year, cash receipts will likely increase," the department said.

LAW on the farm

CONSIDERING CORPORATE OPERATION?

Incorporation is generally a possibility in any business of adequate size. Many family farms are large enough to consider corporate operation.

In farm corporations shareholders often are persons who have worked together in the past — parents and children, brothers and sisters, landlords and tenants, existing farm partnerships or entire farm families. But past working relationships are not necessary.

People who have never been associated in business may find that incorporation is the solution to their problems. Unrelated individuals who separately do not have enough capital to become established in farming might combine their assets to advantage in a farm corporation.

For farmers planning an operation involving high risk such as truck farming or sheep-feeding, the corporation is a way to limit possible losses to the assets in the business. And when farming is only a part of an individual's total business enterprise, he may consider incorporating his farm business to protect his outside assets.

The advantages of a corporate operation are these:

Limited liability. A shareholder is liable for debts of a corporation only to the extent of the shares of stock he owns. But it must be kept in mind that if a corporation becomes insolvent, shares in it are worthless. If this happens and all of a farmer's assets are in shares of the corporation, he loses all of his property.

Easy transfer of ownership. The owner of a share of stock may sell it, leave it to designated persons by will, make a gift of it, or allow it to go to his heirs by law of descent, without breaking up the business. Shares of stock also provide a simple way for the oncoming generation to gradually buy into the farm business.

Continuity of operation. A corporation exists as long as the shareholders desire it and it fulfills the requirements of the law. It can continue to function throughout the changes in ownership caused by one generation replacing another, because shares of stock, rather than farmland, livestock and equipment, are passed to the next generation.

Possible increased efficiency. The very nature of incorporation compels the keeping of accurate records, which is more easily neglected under other business systems. Keeping adequate records, advance planning and reporting results tend to promote efficiency.

Possible tax advantages. In some cases it is possible to reduce income taxes by incorporation. The first $25,000 of taxable corporate income is taxed at 22 per cent. An additional 26 per cent is charged on income over $25,000.

At certain levels of farm income, therefore, taxes may be reduced by splitting the income between the individual (or individuals) and the corporation. However, money retained in the corporation cannot later be paid out to the individual shareholders without further taxation.

Means of improving credit status and pooling capital. Corporate organization, by bringing a corporation becomes insolvent, shares in it are worthless. If this happens and all of a farmer's assets are in shares of

There is a continuity of operation and lenders and investors prefer to deal with the unified and assumedly able management that they expect to find in a corporation. In addition, a corporation allows a pooling of assets from various sources.

Fringe benefits. Shareholders can be employees of their corporation. As employees, they are eligible for fringe benefits such as retirement plans, tax-free medical benefits, group life insurance and deferred compensation.

Among the disadvantages of corporate operation are the following:

Initial cost of incorporation. A corporation must pay certain fees and taxes that are not required for other types of business organizations. Also, there are legal fees for preparing documents. Even a small corporation may have a $300 to $400 bill for initial taxes and charges.

Capital stock tax. This is unique to corporations and is a personal property tax on intangibles. Usually it is not high, but some farmers have incorporated out of state to avoid this tax.

Formality of organization and operation. The law is quite specific about procedures required in operating a corporation. The management must be handled by shareholders, directors and officers, each performing the duties and exercising the powers granted him by the law.

Restricted market for shares. Where the majority shareholding members are not willing to purchase shares of a minority member, a difficult situation can arise. There may not be a ready outside market for shares in a closely held family corporation. This could create a locked-in position for a minority shareholder unless he sells his shares at less than actual value.

Comment: It should be evident that the question of using a corporation is a complex matter. The answer requires the help of an attorney. If you think the advantages of corporation merit further consideration, get an attorney's advice.

Charolais Queen

Miss Sheila Edwards, of Springfield is shown in crowning ceremonies Saturday, July 1, when she was selected Miss Illinois Charolais. The state-wide competition was sponsored by the Illinois Charolais association.

As Miss Illinois Charolais, she will compete for national honors at the American Royal in Kansas City. Should she win there, she will receive an all-expense paid trip to Paris, France, to represent this country at the International Charolais Show. Charolais are large white cattle of French origin.

A panel of four judges selected the queen on beauty, personality, poise and intelligence. Among those judges, was Mrs. Geraldine Hill, 21 Sunset Drive, Jacksonville.

Miss Edwards was crowned by Robert M. Schneider, Illinois Agriculture department director.

Computerized Pedigree To Tell Performance

Another "first" in the beef cattle industry has been scored. Effective Aug. 1 the American Angus association, headquartered in St. Joseph, Mo., will offer performance pedigrees to members who are taking part in the Angus Herd Improvement Record program.

On the face of the new pedigree form will be three generations of ancestry. Individual measurements for weaning weights and grades, yearling weights and grades, weight ratios, and herd classification scores of all animals will be shown when this information is available. The pedigree form also will list the progeny record of the animal's sire and dam which can include carcass evaluation measurements, too.

Illinois State Fair To Attract 13,000 Head Of Livestock

BRIMFUL and running over

By Jim Brim

Agriculture, better known in modern day parlance as Agribusiness, will vie with science and contemporary attractions at the 115-year-old Illinois State Fair to present a modern exposition to well over a million exhibitors, contestants, concessionaires and observers.

The annual extravaganza, believed to be the biggest, richest and most colorful of the nation's showplaces, will offer something for every possible interest in its ten-day run from August 11 through the 20th.

Sprawling over the 366 acres will be livestock and music competition; horse, auto and stock car races; performances by nationally-known entertainers; agricultural and industrial exhibits; carnivals and games.

More than $1 million in prizes, trophies and ribbons will be offered for the best in every category. Some 13,000 livestock entries will compete for more than $100,000 in premium awards. Illinois breeders (Land of Lincoln) will get an additional $150,000.

The Society Horse Show in the Coliseum will attract more than 2,000 of the finest horses in the nation to take away nearly $150,000 in blue ribbons and cash for the top winners.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture increased its efficiency rate again last year by nearly 7 per cent.

The Agriculture Department's annual report on farm efficiency said one American farmworker produced, on the average, sufficient farm products to supply himself and 38.56 other persons. This compared with an average of 37.02 persons, including himself, in 1965.

The cropland harvested last year totaled 289 million acres, the smallest in this century. The peak was 348 million in the 1920-24 period.

Israeli Reservist Tells Of Attack On U.S. Navy Vessel

EDITOR'S NOTE: On the morning of June 8—the fourth day of the Arab-Israeli war—the U.S. Navy communications ship Liberty was lying off the Egyptian coast when it was attacked by Israeli jets and torpedo boats. Thirty-four U.S. seamen were killed and about 75 injured. An Israeli naval reservist, Micha Limor, was aboard one of the torpedo boats that attacked the liberty. He tells the graphic details in this story written especially for The Associated Press.

Written for The Associated Press
TEL AVIV (AP) — The torpedoes were ready for firing when our three Israeli torpedo boats zeroed in on the gray ship moving slowly on a southeasterly course off El Arish.

At that tense moment, not one of us on those torpedo boats could have suspected that this was the beginning of an incident which was to cause a long drawn-out international wrangle.

On June 8, the sun was already high in the sky when we received notification of an unidentified sailing vessel some 12 miles off the El Arish coast, suspected of being an enemy craft.

Within moments, the face of our torpedo boat changed. Sailors took their positions, engines were revved up, and in five minutes we were moving out in formation, torpedo boat after torpedo boat, toward the deep sea.

We spotted the objective once on the radar screen. She was moving on a steady course, southeast at about 10 knots. We sailed toward the objective at an increased speed, looking at her through binoculars in an effort to identify the vessel.

Two of our planes flew over our heads a few minutes afterward. We saw them circle the ship several times, and then dive into the attack.

They spat two rockets into the gray ship, and plumes of smoke rose from her. Then the two jets headed away toward the coast.

About 2,000 yards from the ship, a strange spectacle met our eyes. The high masts and the many weird antenna showed that this was a warship. The side of the vessel was blotted out by smoke, and apart from three numbers along her side, which meant nothing to us, we could not discern a thing.

We could see no flag on the mast, nor was anyone to be seen on the decks and bridge.

For seamen, this can mean only two things: it was either a ghost ship or an enemy ship.

To us — who do not believe in ghosts — it was clear that this was the enemy.

We spent several minutes trying to contact the ship and demanding identification. We tried by radio and by helicopter, in accordance with internationally accepted methods. But she gave no answer. It also seemed that she had managed to control the fires and continued on a stable course.

It was decided to pass by her in battle formation and demand identification by firing across her bow. So we moved past at a tremendous speed, firing across the empty bridge and the bow. Suddenly a sailor appeared in view and started firing at us with a heavy machine gun from the bridge. We took the challenge and directed cannon against him. A moment later he fell, together with the machine gun.

Thus there was no doubt that we were faced by the enemy. The prolonged refusal to identify herself, the absence of any flag, the shooting at us, and above all the weird contraptions on the ship left us without doubt.

We wanted to make the ship surrender without sinking her. Once again we circled the vessel in battle formation, firing again and again. This had no effect. No one appeared. No one reacted. The shells caused little damage to the hull and the ship proceeded on its way.

The order was given to prepare for a torpedo attack.

We drew up along the left side of the boat and advanced at full battle speed.

One of the torpedoes hit the boat amidships. There followed an enormous explosion and a huge water spout.

And then fires broke out — the boat leaned sideways as if about to sink. We waited for survivors as is customary for seamen — whether friend or enemy. But no one appeared on deck.

Suddenly something fell into the sea. One of our formation approached and picking it up from the waters found it to be a rubber lifeboat with the lettering "U.S. Navy."

That was the very first sign of identification.

A moment later there arrived on the scene the helicopter that was to have picked up prisoners. He hovered over the boat and then signaled us:

"They are raising the American flag."

It was crystal clear we had hit friends.

Dozens of shells, rockets and torpedoes were needed to drag a sign of identity from them, said one of my seamen who, like the rest of his mates, was bitterly upset at this surprising turn of events.

At the same time, it turned out later shore emplacements also learned that the attacked vessel was the American intelligence boat Liberty.

We received orders directly from the officer commanding the navy to give all necessary help. So we approached the Liberty and offered help, shouting through a loudspeaker. Then an officer appeared for the first time on the bridge and screamed "Go to hell!" It seems they didn't want strangers aboard.

Learning they did not need aid, we left. And the Liberty returned to its regular operation. It seemed any other ship would have sunk.

Egg Protein Near Perfect

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — Is it true that eggs are really one of our most valuable foods?

A — Yes, one of the best, "infinite riches in a little room," using the poet Christopher Marlowe's famous line. They supply significant amounts of vitamin

A, iron, protein and riboflavin (vitamin B2), as well as smaller amounts of many other nutrients. They are one of the few foods that contain vitamin D. Egg protein is so near perfection that scientists often use it as a standard to measure the value of protein in other foods.

Q — Is it safe to eat food from a can that is bulged?

A — No. Play it safe. If a can is bulging at one or both ends, throw it away. Another can will cost less than a possible doctor's visit.

JERSEYVILLE — Three Jersey County students were named to honor rolls at their respective universities according to announcement made this week.

Miss Kathleen Doak, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. Clark Doak of Jerseyville, is on the honor roll at the University of Iowa College of Pharmacy. She is employed as an apprentice this summer at the Kirby Drug Store. Another honor student is Les Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howell of Jerseyville, who was among 204 students who made the Dean's list for the second semester at Northwest Missouri State College, Maryville, Mo. In order to be a member of this group students must take at least 12 academic hours and attain a minimum of 3.5 grade average using a 4 as an "A". Howell is employed this summer in the Department of Financial Institutions, Springfield.

Cary Edward Wendle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Wendle, 806 Pleasant St., Jerseyville with a 3.82 average, is among 213 students at Adams State College in Alamosa, Colo., to be named to the Dean's List during the spring quarter. He was a sophomore at the school.

The Brewery Grove -- Great Place For A Pic Nic

MORGAN BREWERY, H. Ricks & Son, Props. A good supply of Lager beer, malt hop extract, barley, &c., always on hand. 1 1/2 miles north of square, Jacksonville, Ill. — From the Morgan County Atlas of 1872.

The Scene Of Many Festivities

A hundred years ago James R. Bailey, editor and proprietor of the Jacksonville SENTINEL ever since he founded it 12 years earlier, put in his paper the longest article dealing with the affairs of the day — other than political — that ever appeared in his lively weekly sheet.

It was a story about the brewery, north of town. It filled nearly a column in his paper.

Of course he had written many editorials two to three to four times as long, in which he gave the Republicans fits and waited the Democrats among the heavenly bodies. Here's what he wrote about the Ricks' brewery:

The Jacksonville Brewery
Having had occasion last week to make a business call at the above manufacturing establishment, we had the curiosity to inspect the premises under the chaperonage of the courteous senior of the firm, Mr. Henry Ricks.

The brewery was first started in a small way, but in 1863 the property was purchased by the present owners, Messrs. Henry and John Ricks, who in 1864 erected the present buildings and invested in a large amount of capital in the business.

The new building, irrespective of shedding, is 42 by 62 feet, 22 feet of which is three stories high.

We first visited the vaults, excavated under the buildings in the bowels of the hill, where the lager made during the winter is kept during the summer months in large casks. The first vault is under the original brewery building standing a few feet from the new edifice, but the main vaults enter the face of the hill under the new building. You enter by wide doors into a cellar some forty feet wide by sixty-two feet in length; in which are arranged two tiers of mammoth sized casks of the strongest make, a central passage open between them the entire length of the vault, which extends under the entire building. At the further end you come to a dead wall, in which is a small sliding

After doubling yourself up into the smallest possible knot to pass through this orifice, you find yourself in a vault equal in width to the first, extending 62 feet beyond the foundations of the building into the bowels of the hill, the place also filled with enormous casks.

The malt room, where the dry barley is stored, is on the first floor. From here it is conveyed to an upper room where it is soaked in an immense tub; then it conveyed to an adjoining drying room, floored and lined with zinc. Under this room a furnace is built in the story below, a flue like a square inverted funnel extending from the top of the furnace to the outer edges of the room above, conveying the heated air uniformly to all the under surface of the flooring of the drying room.

After being properly dried the barley is passed through a mashing mill, between rollers which crush the seed and convert it into what is known as malt. This mill is run by a horse power placed outside the building, and the same power also runs a force pump for supplying the kettles and upper tanks with water.

The malt next goes through the scalding process. An immense kettle is set in brick work over a furnace for heating the water used in the preparation of the mash. Standing conveniently near the kettle is the mash tub, a large open tub, in which the malt is placed in consecutive layers of some two feet in depth. When the first layer has been placed in the tub the hot water is let in from the kettle by means of a connecting pipe, until it rises some three inches above the malt. It is suffered to stand a certain number of hours, when a second layer of malt is added, followed by the same process, until the tub is filled.

THE YESTERYEAR editor inspects the entrance of one of the two large "lager" vaults where the beer was aged. The front is pretty much filled up by rubble from the old malt house which stood directly to the south. The width of the vault is 20 feet, not 40 feet as stated in the adjoining story written a hundred years ago. But it is at least 60 feet long, and anybody curious enough to investigate would probably find another one just like it farther back in the hill.

The house shown is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Keckner, who have completely modernized it since they bought the property 20 years ago.

After the whole has stood a sufficient length of time the liquor is drawn off, the hops added, and the beer conveyed by pipes to open tanks in a cooling room in the lower floor, and from thence it is afterwards run through hose into the large stationary casks in the vaults, where it remains until it has acquired the properties of good beer. It is then drawn off in half and quarter barrels and is ready for market.

The bitter beer thus manufactured is pure, and in cases of debility is often used medicinally. Its use as a beverage is opposed, not so much, on the ground of its comparatively mild intoxicating qualities, as that its use tends to cultivate a taste for stronger drink. There is certainly much force in this view of the question, and the same objection will hold good as to cider, native wines and other fermented drinks. It is not, however, our purpose to discuss this question, which may perhaps be properly determined by each individual for himself.

The brewery grounds comprise some ten acres, and the Messrs. Ricks have already expended about $18,000 in permanent improvements and fixtures. The amount of their county, state and national tax is very considerable.

A Tinging Spoon
Yet Bailey's "news" story had political overtones in it. And he was having fun.

A native of Pennsylvania, he disliked all Easterners. Undoubtedly this was because most of them voted the Republican ticket.

All of them had been abolitionists and nearly all of them prohibitionists.

His reference to beer and how it can lead to alcoholism is rich. After all, he noted, cider and home made wine could do as much.

Every New Englander laid in a barrel or two of cider in the fall, just because his family had always done it. Of course it wasn't his fault that it became "hard" before it turned to vinegar.

That was God's law. They stuck up for the tyrannies of the Carpetbaggers in the south with much the same logic, calling it "manifest destiny."

Frugal Folks
Every New Englander in town made wine. After all, it was still to just let the fruit of the vine go to waste. Prof. Jonathan Baldwin Turner won every blue ribbon in the Freeport fair, which came off a year before the state fair was held in Jacksonville, with his home-made wines.

The prohibitionists and the Abolitionists got after him and he never again entered his

EVERY DAY IS DOLLAR DAY AT DOWNTOWN KRESGE'S

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:
Recent official estimates show that the Indian war is costing one million dollars per week. The troops under Gen. Custer have had several recent small fights with the Sioux, in which the Indians got the worst of it.

The business houses in this city were generally closed on the Fourth, and the day passed quietly. The principal events were the Catholic picnic at the Fair grounds and the Fireman's Anniversary ball at Strawn's Hall in the evening.

We learn that a select party of Jacksonvilleians propose to visit Perry Springs, for a season of recreation, as well as to have the benefit of the health inspiring waters. They will probably take with them the Jacksonville Cornet Band.

Our farmers are now busy with the wheat harvest. Although in some localities slightly injured by the rust, the crop is reported to be generally heavy, the berry plump and full.

A horse tamer has within the last few days been operating in this city. He has succeeded in mastering, with apparent ease, several wild and vicious horses.

Prof. J. B. Turner has invented and brought into practical use a machine for cultivating the osage orange in the early stage of its growth. It cleans out five rows at a time in admirable style.

From the Beardstown Central Illinoisian:
BEARDSTOWN WOOLEN MILLS—We visited this establishment which is in the southern portion of town, on Tuesday last, and was agreeably surprised at the advanced condition everything was in. They are now purchasing wool, for cash, or in exchange for manufactured goods, as best suits the customer.

SUICIDE — A man living on Sand Prairie, by the name of John Johnson, alias some German name, got tired of life and love in a cottage last Saturday night, took a coil of rope and swung himself off of this mortal coil. No particular reason is given for the inconsiderate act, except probably pecuniary embarrassments.

WHEAT — We learn that as farmers begin to enter their wheat fields for harvesting, that the rust has made its appearance to a greater extent than was anticipated. The crop, however, promises to be large. Flour has already declined at this point, the City Mills are selling their best for $13.00 per bbl., down $2.60 from last month.

The Fourth of July was duly celebrated in this town. The crowd drained eight-six kegs of beer, which made our Teutonic lager saloonists right content.

Many of our citizens wound up in a fence corner on the Fourth of Jew-lie.

From the Carrollton Gazette:
Let our citizens not forget that to-day is the time for holding the election for the purpose of deciding whether the people of this city will subscribe thirty thousand dollars towards securing the location of the railroad machine shops at this point. Let all vote.

A few days since Messrs. Crandall & Hobson of the Union Mill left at our door a sack of flour ground from new wheat, the first that has been received in Carrollton this season, and we believe the first ground in the county. The wheat, a sample of which was also left us, was raised on the farm of Matt. Fullerton, and yielded about 30 bushels to the acre. The flour left was very fine, and too much cannot be said for the public spirit of these young millers.

The 4th of July celebration here was a complete fizzle, as none of the speakers appeared and the fireworks in the evening refused to ignite.

The earth is 8,000 miles in diameter.

Crop, Weather Reports Bring Further Decline

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grain futures prices declined again this week on the Chicago Board of Trade, influenced by favorable harvest and growing weather and crop reports that 1967 production will hit new highs.

For wheat and corn futures, it was the fifth straight week of declining prices; soybeans showed some strength in the nearby July contract, attributable to the tight supply of beans at Chicago; oats closed mixed, while rye futures advanced. Soybean oil continued to decline and influenced lower prices in soybean meal.

Aggressive trade in the choice steer market turned prices higher for the week.

When trade closed Friday at the exchange, wheat was 1/4 lower to 1/2 cent higher a bushel July 1.46 3/8-78; corn was 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, July 1.31 3/4-1/2; oats were 3/4 lower to 3/8 higher, July 71 cents bid; rye was 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, July 1.21; and soybeans were 1 1/2 cents lower to 1/4 higher, July 2.83 1/2-3/4.

For the week, wheat 3/4 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel lower; corn was 1/4 to 1 1/4 cents lower; oats were 1 1/2 lower to 1 3/8 higher; rye was 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 cents higher; and soybeans closed 2 1/2 lower to 1 1/4 higher.

Soybean oil lost from 15 to 16 points for the week, while soybean meal dropped 30 cents to 1.80. Choice steers advanced from 15 to 35 cents per hundred pounds.

Weather was the most important factor in commodity prices earlier in the week. On Friday, the Quaker Crop Summary tended to influence higher prices, reporting that wheat, corn and soybean production this year might show some losses because of rain damage to fields. Prices advanced about 1 1/2 cents a bushel.

However, about 30 minutes after Friday's opening, another trade-respected statistician, Conrad Leslie of Lamson Bros. & Co., estimated 1967 corn production and all-weather production would hit new highs. He estimated corn production at 4.331 billion bushels, or 228 million bushels above last year's record production. He estimated all-weather production at 1.550 billion bushels, compared to the government's estimate of 1.510 billion, and last year's 1.310 billion bushel crop. The 1967 soybean crop, Leslie said, would total 973 million bushels, according to his present figures.

With Leslie's report, prices declined and at the close Friday were near lows for the day.

The market, however, continued to react during the week to buying and selling pressure for brief periods, indicating a nervousness concerning prices and crops.

In the next few weeks, traders said, the market probably would show reaction to its historical harvest time practice of hedging. This is a form of insurance that grain and soybeans buyers turn to. They buy the grain from farmers and sell a like amount of futures at Chicago.

FCC Jolts Biggest Stockholder Family With Limit On AT&T

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The biggest stockholder family was jolted this past week when the Federal Communications Commission clamped a lid on American Telephone & Telegraph Co. profits.

The FCC, after a long investigation of the giant utility's financial structure, ordered AT&T to operate its interstate and foreign operations within a profit range of 7 to 7.5 per cent. These operations account for about 25 per cent of the company's total revenues.

And the FCC ordered AT&T to cut its interstate rates by $120 million a year — about 3 per cent of its earnings from this source.

The immediate impact was to send AT&T stock to a new 1967 low on the New York Stock Exchange on Thursday. The issue closed at $54.25 a share, off $1.50.

AT&T is the most widely held stock on the big board, with more than three million investors owning 539.6 million shares.

The stock has been under pressure since the FCC investigation was announced Oct. 27, 1965. On that date it sold at $66.87.

AT&T's profits on its interstate and foreign services have been running about 8 per cent.

In 1966, AT&T earned $1.9 billion, or $3.69 a share. An investment analyst estimated that earnings would have been 12 cents a share lower if return on investment had been held to 7.25 per cent.

This analyst said the key factor is whether the FCC decision spreads to the regulatory commissions in the 50 states. If the states should adopt similar restrictions on operations within their borders, he said, the combined cuts could reduce AT&T's over-all earnings by an amount equal to 57 cents a share on 1966 earnings.

AT&T called the order "most disappointing."

"If allowed to stand for the long pull," the company said, "this restriction on our earnings prospects would inevitably slow down our effort to provide constantly more and better communications service to the public."

It added that company officials were reviewing the order "to determine what steps we should take to obtain modifications of its restrictive provisions."

In the automobile industry, General Motors and Ford reported sales increases in June over a year earlier, but Chrysler showed a decline.

General Motors dealers sold 412,347 new cars, up 5.2 per cent from 381,593 in June 1966. Ford's sales climbed to 279,097 last month from 256,280 a year earlier. Chrysler sales dipped to 124,466 from 125,280.

Production in June of 762,000 cars and 152,200 trucks, a total of 914,000, was the highest for any month this year. It compared with the year's previous monthly high of 906,481 in May.

Because of the Fourth of July holiday, output this past week dropped to 131,128 cars from 172,463 last week.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler are scheduled to open talks Monday with the United Auto Workers on new three-year contracts. The current agreement expires Sept. 6.

Steel production fell for the week to the lowest level since December 1965. Output of 2,173,000 tons was off 3.4 per cent from 2.25 million tons the previous week.

The Federal Reserve Board reported that consumer credit on the installment plan rose by only $193 million during May, the smallest advance in more than five years.

The advance brought installment credit outstanding as of May 31 to a record $74.29 billion.

The board said the small expansion stemmed partly from heavy repayments which continued at or near record levels for all types of credit.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 5.03 to 869.05. Prices rose from the start despite another influx of sell orders which sent AT&T down 1 to 53 3/4 to 315.60 shares.

The stock still was reacting to the Federal Communications Commission decision to allow it a rate of return not to exceed 7 1/2 per cent on its interstate service—meaning an annual

Stock Market Begins Second Half Of Year With Good Advance

By ED MORSE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's first week of the last half of 1967 began with a pretty good advance, breaking off a sequence of two straight weekly declines.

The recovery was carried out despite weakness in American Telephone due to unfavorable news and a holiday week in which there were only three normal trading days.

The markets were closed Tuesday, July 4, and Monday was a session in which semi-holiday conditions prevailed.

Wednesday and Friday were strong market days, punctuated by Thursday when the trend was irregular.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 8.79 points to 869.05, recovering about a third of the 24.74 points it lost in the preceding two weeks.

Volume for the four-day trading week was 36,811,210 shares compared with 44,940,110 for the full five days of the previous week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 4.2 to 327.2.

Of 1,577 issues traded, 988 rose and 447 fell.

The advance was accounted for by normal reinvestment demand following the profit-taking and switching that occurred as the half year ended.

The market was able to rise despite a real body blow in the form of news that AT&T must trim its rate of return on interstate business to a maximum of 7 1/2 per cent, meaning an annual revenue slash of some $120 million.

AT&T common stock fell to a new low for the year and took a net loss of 3 1/4 as the week's most-active stock. This meant a big paper loss to its 3 million shareholders, the largest corporate family in the world.

Analysts looked with favor on the market's ability to advance despite this handicap.

Airlines, color televisions, savings-and-loans and assorted blue chips did well.

Woolworth rose 2, Pan American World Airways 1 1/2, Eastern Air Lines 7 1/2 and American Machine & Foundry 2 1/2.

Treasury bond prices showed their first gains in any week since June with advances of up to a point.

New issues of corporate bonds sold well with yields declining about 10 basis points, according to Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, a leading Wall Street investment firm.

Prices were up on new corporate bonds by 3/4 to 1 1/2 points.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

HOROSCOPE

By STELLA

SUNDAY, JULY 9 — Born today, you are demanding of others, often ignoring their feelings in your insistence that they perform up to their best standards, and so on. You may be feared for this, but ultimately you will also be admired, for it is through your pushing that others often reach the success they secretly have yearned for. Your ability to force others to do their best should allow you to climb high in the executive ranks even at the beginning of your career.

Although you may make a few enemies through your dominating nature, the friends you make will be longer-lasting and firmer than any foe. Your friends will be those who admire the self-made man or woman, and who realize that the best is achieved by the person with the most imagination, the most drive, and the highest qualities of leadership — and that person has to be you.

For all your forcefulness you have the saving grace of humor. You are able to laugh at yourself and with others, and you never hold a grudge against one who finds your foibles the object of fun. You are wise enough to see the fun in them, yourself and, even though you cannot do anything about them — and don't want to — you can laugh at them.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, July 10

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — It will take a good deal of energy to begin this work-week well. Business transactions can be brought off successfully.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Take the constructive approach and solve employment problems. Adverse criticism of employees will get your nowhere.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Avoid extravagance of any kind. If possible, try to get along with what you already have — even in business matters.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Use caution to keep an adventurous nature in check. Though you may want to break out of the mold, this isn't the time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — An active environment could mislead you into planning to accomplish more than is possible today. Be guided by your limitations.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Let reason curb your emotional impulses just now. This would be a good day to reconsider proposed changes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — The profits you've been counting on may not materialize. Don't let disappointment color your decisions for the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Cross-currents of business and social pressures may serve to confuse matters if you're not careful. Depend on good judgment.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) — You can come nearer success today if you depend upon clear thinking rather than fuzzy feeling. Be reasonable.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20) — Scrutinize every new contact and any seemingly new idea laid before you. There may well be more than meets the eye or ear.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Prepare yourself early to keep pace with a fast-moving day. A good time for showing higher-ups that you can work under pressure.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Mature decisions rather than rapid ones are what is needed today. Don't allow others to do your thinking for you.

Jacksonville Native

Is Zone Director

Dr. Charles E. Beck of Danville, a native of Jacksonville, was appointed Friday the first director of the Illinois Mental Health Zone Clinic with headquarters in Springfield.

Beck, 46, has been serving as medical director of the Eastern Illinois Mental Health Clinic at Danville.

Dr. Beck will supervise mental health activities in an 18-county area, including Jacksonville State Hospital.

Beck graduated from Jacksonville high school in 1939 and received his AB degree in chemistry from Illinois College in 1943.

He served in the Army Air Corps and was discharged with the rank of Captain in 1946. He received his medical education at the University of Oklahoma and later qualified as a psychiatrist.

While at Illinois College, Beck played on the freshman basketball team.

A step-son, David S. Brown, is currently a junior at Illinois College.

FIREMEN CHECK

REPORT OF SMOKE

Firemen were summoned to Waddell's department store on the south side of the public square shortly after two o'clock Friday afternoon when an employee noticed a heavy odor of smoke.

Firemen found that a fluorescent light fixture had overheated. An electrician was called to repair the fixture. There was no damage.

Shortly thereafter, firemen made a run to the Village Brook at South West street, where wooden pilings alongside the brook were on fire.

Fire apparently started when city employees were burning brush along the brook. No extensive damage was noted.

Parents Rescue

Tot Who Fell

Into Excavation

BEARDSTOWN — Four-year-old Jonathan Vredenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Vredenburg of Beardstown, narrowly escaped drowning Friday when he fell into a flooded basement excavation near his home.

The child, unconscious when found, was reported resting comfortably Friday evening after receiving medical treatment at his home. He was rescued by his parents and was given mouth-to-mouth resuscitation by a neighbor, R. J. Dreier.

Jonathan, whose father operates the Vredenburg Lumber company at Beardstown, tumbled into the water-filled excavation while playing with a friend, Mike Dreier, at about 2:30 p.m.

The Dreier boy summoned his father and the Vredenburgs, who plunged into the water, described as several feet deep, and pulled the child to safety.

Workmen said the basement excavation, at the site of a new house being built for Thomas Cadenhead, became flooded when a water main broke earlier in the day.

The construction site, at the rear of the Vredenburg property, faces on Circle Drive.

Youth, 6, Runs

Into Car Friday

A six-year old Jacksonville youngster sustained minor injuries at 1:40 p.m. Friday when he apparently ran into the path of a car in the 300 block of South East street.

Treated, and later released from Passavant hospital was Richie Deaton, 6, of 312 South East street. He reportedly sustained a nose and lip injury.

According to city police, the boy ran into the path of a vehicle operated by Claude R. Ware, 63, of Leland Lake.

Ware told police that he was northbound on South East street, when the boy, running south, suddenly darted into the path of the car.

No tickets were issued by officers.

Father-Son Hassle Erupts Into Shooting Incident At Woodson

A father-son argument erupted into a shooting incident and injury affecting five members of a rural Woodson family Saturday morning.

Sheriff Dean Colwell identified the father as 35-year-old Harry Eugene Fluke of route one, Murrayville, who operates a dairy farm a short distance south of Woodson.

Other members of the family injured were: Robert, 16, and Patty, 2, shot in the side with a .22 caliber rifle; Sharon, 13, and the mother, Helen, 37, struck in the head with a 13-inch bolt.

The father is a patient at Passavant hospital; the other members of the family are at Fluke's home. Fluke was believed to be in serious condition.

First report of the incident was received at the county jail, indicating an accident had occurred at 10:53 about two miles south of Woodson on the old highway.

When state troopers arrived they found a car driven by Harry Eugene Fluke had collided with a tractor-trailer truck owned by Brown's Fertilizer Company of Waverly, driven by Edward Moehler.

Fluke was taken to Passavant hospital by ambulance where he is under treatment for a possible broken collar bone. Sheriff Colwell said he would be taken to the county jail following release from the hospital.

Started Friday Sheriff Colwell, late Saturday, pieced together information collected during the investigation. Fluke and his son, Robert, 16, had apparently argued Friday concerning the amount and sequence of work to be accomplished on the 70-acre dairy farm.

The argument erupted again Saturday morning when the boy balked at his father's request to begin work. Later, the mother stepped in with the thought of preventing a confrontation.

The argument took place both inside and outside the house at Woodson.

Colwell said the elder Fluke then jumped into his car and fled from the home. The father admitted at the hospital that he saw the tractor-trailer unit approaching on the old highway, about a half mile from the family home, and decided to "end it all."

Colwell said he aimed at a point behind the cab of the truck and crashed. Meanwhile, Mrs. Roach took the four injured members of the family, plus two other children, Linda, 10, and Jeanie, 5, to Holy Cross hospital. The two other children were not involved in the family incident and were not injured.

Colwell said the elder Fluke readily admitted the incidents at the hospital Saturday afternoon. The family has resided at the small farm for the past two years. Fluke told authorities he has been depressed since the death of a blind daughter about a year ago. Sheriff Colwell said at least a part of the difficulty may have stemmed from financial problems.

Colwell said charges would be filed by the state's attorney Monday and that Fluke would be taken into custody upon release. What charge would be filed was not immediately determined.

"Model" Neighbor Fluke and his family were regarded as "model neighbors" by friends who live in the area. One neighbor, Tom Irlam, had made arrangements by 2:30 p.m. Saturday to take care of the 40 head of cows owned by the Flukes.

Larry Perdue 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Perdue of Jerseyville at 6:25 p.m. Wednesday cut his arm on a corn knife. He had a two inch laceration which required sutures, taken at the hospital.

Dave Meisel of Chataqua at 7:25 p.m. Wednesday lacerated his left thumb and the injury was treated at the Jersey Community Hospital.

SPRINGFIELD MAN SHOOT'S WIFE. KILLS HIMSELF

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A husband shot and critically injured his wife and then killed himself, police reported Saturday night.

Two neighborhood boys told investigators they saw Wilson Sykes, 27, struggling with his wife, Helen, 37. Sykes grabbed a revolver and fired four times. His wife was struck in the chest and head.

Police, called by neighbors, found Mrs. Sykes lying on the floor of the couple's basement apartment. Her husband's body was found in the living room. A bullet had been fired into his head and the revolver was by his side. Five bullets had been fired from the weapon, police said.

Mrs. Sykes was reported in critical condition in St. John's Hospital.
